Questions & Answers

Question 1

Please provide the latest update on the recoverability of outstanding amount arising from disposal of the Group's two subsidiaries for RMB 3.3 billion.

- As at 31 December 2019, the Group has received a total payment of RMB 2.71 billion from the Buyer, with a balance consideration of RMB 575.35 million remaining payable by the Buyer.
- Based on the sale and purchase agreement (“S&P agreement”), the Buyer has the right to deduct from the consideration payable in the event of non-fulfilment of the specific clauses in the S&P agreement.
- Notwithstanding this, the Management will continue to undertake its best endeavours to recover the balance consideration from the Buyer.

Question 2

The board has previously committed in formal meeting with shareholders that once the collection of the outstanding amount of RMB 3.3 billion is completed, the board will endeavour to pay a dividend to shareholders. With the outstanding amount substantially collected, can the board update shareholders on its previous commitment to shareholders on the subject matter of dividend payout?

- The issuance of dividends has always been part of the Board's agenda and discussions for rewarding shareholders.
- The Group's real estate business activities are capital intensive and requires significant amount of working capital and the Group's borrowings as at 31 December 2019 was approximately RMB 2.8 billion.
- The recent outbreak of Covid-19 has led to an unprecedented crisis that has impacted nearly all businesses worldwide.
- In light of the challenges and uncertainties arising from Covid-19 and the need to fund new growth plans, the Group is taking a prudent approach to conserve cash and ensure adequate and steady cash flow for the Group's working capital requirements as well as its future operational and development needs for its business activities.
